

Seafarer certificate pre-assessment form

Last updated: September 2017

Use this form to find out whether you have sufficient sea service for the seafarer certificate you intend to apply for.

- There is a fee for this pre-assessment service (see 4. Fees and payment options).
- For the Marine Engineer Class 3 (MEC 3) certificate only, you can also apply to have your mechanical engineering or workshop skills training pre-assessed (see 3. Pre-assessment of MEC 3 training).
- Pre-assessment is not available for all certificates (refer to 7. Certificates eligible for pre-assessment).

Refer to the certificate guideline for details about:

- how much and what kind of sea service you need for the certificate
- the documents you need to provide as evidence for your pre-assessment.

You must complete this form correctly for your application to be valid. Check the certificate requirements to make sure you have provided all of the information we need – your sea service may be assessed as inadequate if your information is incomplete.

You will receive a decision within 20 working days and a reference number to include with your application for a seafarer certificate.

If you do not have enough sea service, we will tell you about the additional sea service you need to complete (and provide evidence for).

1. Personal details

All applicants must complete this section.

Complete all of these fields.

2. Pre-assessment of sea service

Complete this section to have your sea service pre-assessed.

Please indicate which certificate you want to be pre-assessed for (see 7. Certificates eligible for pre-assessment).

Certificate name

For engineering certificates, indicate the main propulsion power (motor, steam or both)

If the certificate has different options for sea service, indicate the number of the option you have chosen (Option 1, Option 2, etc)

(The Certificate of Sea Service form on MNZ's website can be used to check your sea service.)

Refer to the guideline for the certificate for details about the information and documents you must provide. Make sure your documents show all of the information we need.

Provide copies of your documents (do not send the originals, except for your training record book if required).

3. Pre-assessment of MEC 3 training

Complete this section if you want to have your mechanical engineering or workshop skills training pre-assessed for the MEC 3 certificate.

Note: You must apply separately if you also want to have your sea service pre-assessed.

Indicate which type of main propulsion power you have selected (steam, motor or both)

Indicate whether you wish to have training pre-assessed for Option 1 or Option 2

Refer to the MEC 3 guideline for more details about the information you must provide.

Provide copies of your documents (do not send the originals, except for your training record book if required).

Option 1

Only mechanical and/or marine engineering qualifications will be considered (electrical, chemical or other engineering qualifications are not acceptable).

For MNZ to assess whether your certificate or shore-based training are equivalent to NCME (Level 4), you need to provide the following information:

- course name, training provider and course dates
- course outline, detailing the subjects taught
- your course record (academic transcript or marks sheet)
- your diploma, certificate or course completion letter, also showing your name and the date of issue.

You will be referred to the New Zealand Qualifications Authority if your training course is not familiar to us.

Your documents need to be in English or accompanied by a translation in English from an independent recognised translation service.

You will receive a decision indicating whether your course and workshop skills training meet the required standards and the minimum sea service you must complete to meet the requirement for 12 months' combined sea service and workshop skills (with at least six months spent on engine room watchkeeping).

3. Pre-assessment of MEC 3 training (continued)

Option 2

For MNZ to assess whether your workshop skills training or experience meet the STCW requirements for workshop skills, you need to provide the following information:

- name of the workshop skills course, training provider and course dates
- course outline, detailing the subjects taught
- your course record (academic transcript or marks sheet)
- your diploma, certificate or course completion letter, also showing your name and the date of issue

Your documents need to be in English or accompanied by a translation in English from an independent recognised translation service.

You will receive a decision indicating whether your training meets the required standards and the minimum sea service you must complete to meet the requirement for 36 months' combined sea service and workshop skills (with at least 30 months' sea service).

4. Fees and payment options

All applicants must complete this section.

Application fee

The fee for sea service pre-assessment is NZ$398, including goods and services tax (GST).

The fee for pre-assessment of MEC 3 training is NZ$111, including GST.

With pre-assessment, the application fee for the certificate is reduced. (Refer to the relevant guideline to find out the discounted application fee for the certificate.)

Refer to the MNZ website for more information about fees and how to pay your fees.
